S.A.S. BULLETIN 20 YEARS — 200 ISSUES

In January, 1965, Dame Kathleen Kenyon, then our President, launched the Surrey Archaeological Society’s Bulletin with a message outlining its aims: to bring all members of the Society into closer touch with its many activities; to be a forum whereby members can either pass on or ask for information on subjects of a kind not warranting full publication but which nevertheless should not pass without mention; and thirdly, to serve as a liaison between the County Society and the numerous active Local Societies and Groups.

Now, twenty years and two hundred issues later, it can be seen how well the Bulletin has justified the hopes placed in it. The Society, active as ever, if not more so, has passed through many phases of growth and change, and the Bulletin has proved itself an indispensable means of communication — something without which a voluntary body such as ours would wither and atrophy. Not only that, because of pressures placed upon them, some people still find it impossible to shorten the time-lag between investigation and full publication; without the Bulletin’s retrieval system, much would have been lost. It is more than a popular ephemeral newsletter, though it possesses those qualities, it is an organ of the Society which we would neglect at our peril.

In her launching message Dame Kathleen paid tribute to ‘a number of most generous offers of voluntary assistance from public spirited members to whom the gratitude of the Society is due’. This 200th issue bears witness to the truth of those words.

Rosamond Hanworth

... The Story So Far ...

It was agreed by Council in June, 1964, that a Bulletin should be sent out to all members for a trial period of six months. Prior to this the Collections and a Visits Card were the only publications sent to all members. Those interested in excavations received duplicated excavation notices whilst members with a particular interest in visits paid 3/- a year to have detailed lists sent to them. The first Bulletin came out in January, 1965. It, and subsequent issues, were so well received that the Annual Report for 1965 considered it “... an outstanding success ...”

Since its inception there have only been four changes in editorship. Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Turner were responsible for converting the idea into print on paper and in building a framework for the monthly which has altered very little over the years. A four or six page Bulletin was issued every month. Shortly after the editorship passed to Viscountess Hanworth in 1970 the number of pages was raised to eight and in 1973 it even reached 12, although some pages contained advertisements. Miss Nancy Cox, now Mrs. Hawkins, took over as editor in October, 1975, and saw 32 issues through the press before relinquishing the position to Miss Lesley Ketteringham at the end of 1978. In 1980 in order to cut printing and postage costs the number of issues was reduced to six per year. Complaints were received that infrequent issues meant that organisers of excavations, visits, meetings, etc., had to be very alert and send in publicity material well in advance of the event, possibly before details had been completed. When the subscription increase was agreed at the 1983
A.G.M. it was recorded that some of the money would go to increasing the number of Bulletin issues per year. When the present editor took over at the end of 1983 it was thought that ten issues each year should meet requirements.

In 1965 the annual subscription was £2, this rose to £4 in 1975; postal charges in this period rising from 3d (1¼p) to 3½p. 1979 saw the subscription at £6 where it stayed until April, 1984, (£10), postal charges moving ever upwards to the present 13p. Responsibility for mailing arrangements (addressing, filling and posting) was assumed by Mrs. R.
K. Chiles for the first four years. Miss Clare Smith carried on the work until mid-1973. In that year Mrs. Irene Atherstone took on this essential task which goes largely unnoticed by members until their Bulletin fails to arrive. Our printer since 1971, Mr. Ian Dormor, has made life smoother for the editors: not only coping with copy which is often untidy but by his willingness to meet editorial requirements, an understanding supported by the fact that he too is a long standing and active member of the Society.

Scanning past numbers of the Bulletin it is interesting to follow the progress and expansion of the Society’s work. Some projects span almost the whole period. In October, 1969, James Batley requested information from members to help him fill in the gaps in his card index of pictures by John and Edward Hassell. The fruition of his work appeared 16 years later in the recent volume of the Collections dedicated to his memory. The paper was completed and prepared for publication by Dr. G. Moss.

Cleverly produced programmes on television and radio have stimulated the interest of the general public in archaeology; regrettably this interest is not reflected in support for the County Society. Membership levels have fluctuated between 1000 and 1200, with a downward movement in the last few years. To reverse this trend and to maintain a high level of activity must be the aim for the next twenty years to carry the Society into the 21st century.

In the preparation for this note the assistance of the Library staff at Castle Arch is gratefully acknowledged.

Surrey Archaeological Society Research Fund
This fund has been set up to support research on any aspect of the history and archaeology of the historic or administrative county of Surrey. Projects involving Surrey as part of a wider region will also be considered. The fund is available only to any individual, whether or not a member of the Society, and to local historical or archaeological societies or groups. The success of an application is not dependent on a proven record of research. The fund is intended to supplement rather than to supplant existing sources of finance, which are listed below. An application form and a copy of the general conditions of grants are available from the Hon. Secretary, Surrey Archaeological Society, Castle Arch, Guildford GU 1 3SX.

Existing Sources
Excavation and Fieldwork — grants are administered by the Excavation Committee. Contact Dr. D. G. Bird, 14 Kings Road, Guildford GU1 4JW (Excavations Committee Secretary). Conservation work — grants are administered by the Conservation Committee. Contact Mrs. K. R. Kay, 1 Beech Lawn, Guildford GU1 3PE (Conservation Committee Secretary).

The Publications and Editorial Committee will continue to consider requests for loans towards the cost of publication. Contact Mrs. P. C. Nicolaysen, 295 West Barnes Lane, New Malden KT3 6JE.

Hon. Secretaries

Archaeological Site Archives
It has been decided by Council that site archives relating to any Surrey Archaeological Society excavation should be housed in the Guildford Museum's store along with the objects.

Until recently the archives were stored in the Society's library, separated from the objects in the Museum's store. This caused many problems for researchers who wished to compare the archive and objects from a particular site.

Most of the site archives previously held by the library have now been transferred on a long loan to the Museum. All future site archives emanating from SAS excavations should be deposited on long loan directly with the Museum.
Site Archive Appeal!
The Guildford Museum staff are currently reorganising the archaeological site archives and are most anxious to receive archives relating to sites held by the museum. The museum is particularly interested in acquiring:

- site notebooks
- correspondence
- context sheets
- finds registers
- plans
- research notes
- drawings for publication
- scripts for publication
- full copy of final publication
  (this is particularly useful when part of the article/publication is in microfiche)
- black and white negatives
- black and white prints
- colour negatives
- colour transparencies

Please contact Julia Arthur at the Museum (Guildford 505050 ext. 3542) for further information.

EXCAVATION NOTICE

Beddington Sewage Works Excavation
Excavations resumed on the above site in November 1984 with a Manpower Services Commission Programme, but volunteers are still required for all aspects of the work (including finds work if preferred). No previous experience necessary. If you wish to help please write to: L. & R. Adkins, Dept. of Greater London Archaeology (SW London), c/o 157 Valley Road, Kenley CR2 5BZ, or phone 01-669 6466 (mornings).

INSURANCE AND INDEMNITIES

Excavation Directors and Diggers please note:

Excavation Insurance — Directors of excavations are reminded that it is essential that they arrange for insurance cover for the excavation that they are undertaking. For the purpose of insurance the term ‘excavation’ covers all aspects of excavation where there is a ‘third party risk’ and not simply ‘dirt archaeology.’ Under certain circumstances ‘field walking’ and ‘measuring buildings’ would require cover. If in doubt, or to register for insurance cover, please contact R. J. Webber at 8 Kelvin Grove, Hook,Chessington. Telephone: 01-397 4885 (evenings and weekends). Please remember that “COVER AFTER THE EVENT IS TOO LATE!”

Personal Accident Insurance — All volunteers on excavations, including field walking, measuring and other connected activities should be fully aware that the Society’s insurance policy does not cover them for injury or sickness, and, thereby, loss of earnings, should that injury be self inflicted or the result of their own neglect. All volunteers should, therefore, arrange for PERSONAL ACCIDENT INSURANCE through their own insurers before they engage in excavation activities. Remember please that if you put a pickaxe through someone else’s foot, or they do it to you, that will be all right but if you put it through your own foot then that will be your responsibility and nobody else’s! Directors of Excavations please bring this matter to the attention of all your volunteer diggers.

Indemnities
Some indemnities required by landowners and contractors go beyond the acceptable liability of Surrey Archaeological Society and its insurance cover for excavations. In future all indemnity forms MUST be signed by one or other of the OFFICERS OF THE SOCIETY who have been appointed by The Council of the Society to act in this matter.
A copy of every indemnity required must be forwarded to Mr. R. J. Webber at 8 Kelvin Grove, Hook, Chessington, Surrey KT9 1DP who will, where necessary, clear the terms and conditions with the insurers. A further copy should, at the same time, be sent to the Society's Hon. LEGAL ADVISER.
LOCAL SOCIETIES or GROUPS excavating under Surrey Archaeological Society’s name or using the Society’s insurance cover MUST COMPLY with this procedure. Other excavators would be well advised to take legal advice before signing any form of indemnity.
The following officers of the Society have been authorised by the Council to sign indemnities on behalf of the Society: The President, The Secretary, The Hon. Treasurer.

J. L. Gower, Hon. Secretary

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Witney: Flint Collection (SU 918368)
A collection of flints was made during the period 1968–71 in the area of Witney Farm by Mr. John Cresswell assisted by his nephews Steven and Andrew Penney. Mr. Cresswell has now generously given this collection together with his working notes and maps, to the Haslemere Group. The collection consists of about 220 worked flints and the bulk of these appears, from a preliminary inspection, to be of Mesolithic date. Some pieces have previously been listed in the CBA gazetteer. The collection will be made available to interested people or groups if arrangements are made with the Haslemere Group Secretary, telephone Haslemere 2692.

The Hart, Farnham (SU 837469)
Following demolition of the Kingham’s Depot and associated buildings to the rear of The Hart, Farnham, the Farnham & District Museum Society Archaeological Group carried out a trial investigation of the site. A number of small trial trenches were dug, sampling the whole area of the proposed development. While no features were discovered, the southern section of the site produced reasonable quantities of pottery dating from the 13th Century onwards. As the site lies to the rear of properties fronting West Street, it seems likely that this material represents domestic rubbish thrown from these properties into what was then open ground. One piece of Roman pottery and several fragments of tile of possible Roman date were found scattered over the site, though there was no sign of any occupation level. Several flint flakes were recovered from just above the natural gravel, which occurred at depths varying from 0.85m to 1.2m.

Limpfield’s Domesday Pits (See Bulletin 198)
The Manor of Limpfield consisted of several parts situated within four ecclesiastical parishes, Lingfield, Limpfield, Hever and Chaldon. The Chaldon estate centred on Willey Farm. Work on the Willey estate indicates that the stone quarries in Chaldon were included in Willey and therefore in the manor of Limpsfield. These quarries were of considerable importance for in the time of Edward III a bailiff for the Crown was put in charge (Pat. Rolls. 33 Edward III).

The High Chart in Limpsfield parish shows signs of ‘quarrying’. It could be the result of taking the chart stone in the 19th century for road metal. However, R. H. Cunnington in ‘Oxted & Limpsfield’ edited Lewis Fry, (1932). p.118 states that at ‘Champions Pitts on Limpsfield Chart local stone had once been quarried by sinking pits 25 feet deep or more and tunnelling where suitable beds of stone were met with — very like the prehistoric flint mines’.

Romano-British remains were found in one of the filled-in pits dated AD 45–95. Were these pits perhaps the ‘fossae’ to which Domesday refers together with the quarry in Chaldon.

Surrey Heath Group H.Q. — Fund Raising by “Litter Lift”

A sum of £1460 was needed to equip the recently acquired H.Q. (See Bulletin 197). By mid-February over £1100 had been collected by local efforts. Andrea Lowson and Katy Hunter, two members of the junior section of the group, thought up a novel and public spirited way of raising money. They carried out a sponsored litter collection. Between them they raised £40 by clearing 17 sacks of rubbish from Bagshot. A report and photography appeared in the local “Camberley News” describing their work, which, in turn, gained useful publicity for archaeology in the Surrey Heath area.

Juniper Hall Field Centre Library

Members are reminded that under an agreement between this Society and the Juniper Hall Field Centre, Dorking, they are entitled to free access to the latter’s library provided that no conference or meetings are in progress. All that is required is a phone call to the Centre in advance, and the SyAS library card must be shown on arrival. Tel. Dorking 883849. The books and journals in the Field Centre Library cover Ecology, Natural History and all aspects of Geography.
